

Illustrative Mathematics Project

Bill McCallum

Bill McCallum's presentation highlighted various features of the website for the Illustrative Mathematics Project; a website designed to serve as a companion to Common Core State Standards in mathematics. At the time of the conference, the completed features of the site focused largely on the content standards; the presentation shared preliminary work outlining the features of the website which will focus on the Mathematical Practice Standards.